Synopsis: Twenty-something sisters Kate and Lisa are gorgeous, fun loving and ready for the holiday of a lifetime in Mexico. When the opportunity to go cage diving to view Great White sharks presents itself, thrill-seeking Kate jumps at the chance while Lisa takes some convincing. After some not so gentle persuading, Lisa finally agrees and the girls soon find themselves two hours off the coast of Huatulco and about to come face to face with nature's fiercest predator. But what should have been the trip to end all trips soon becomes a living nightmare when the shark cage breaks free from their boat, sinks and they find themselves trapped at the bottom of the ocean. With less than an hour of oxygen left in their tanks, they must somehow work out how to get back to the boat above them through 47 meters of shark-infested waters.

Synopsis: Oskari, a timid 13-year-old, anxiously awaits his fate. Tradition dictates that like his forefathers before him, the boy's time has come to spend one day and one night alone in the wilderness. Armed with only a bow and arrow, he must return with a prize to prove himself to be a man. Terrified and alone, he wanders through a vast and unforgiving forest when suddenly he hears a deafening rumbling sound. Racing to investigate, Oskari discovers an escape pod. Not just any escape pod - this pod belongs to Air Force One and the battered and bruised man lying before him is the President of the United States! In the skies above, terrorists are hurtling their way to the crash site hell-bent on kidnapping the President. Now the fate of the most powerful man in the world lies in the hands of a 13-year-old-boy. Plunged into a deadly game of cat and mouse with only hours to spare, Oskari and the President must team up to survive the most extraordinary night of their lives.

Synopsis: The Bolshoi. Symbol of Russia, a national treasure - mystical and intriguing. Recently, however, the theatre has been in the headlines for all the wrong reasons: intrigue, personal attacks and management changes have created lurid headlines. Now, for the first time, the theatre directors are allowing a film crew access backstage. They see the coming months as a new chapter, and are ready to allow the 2013 -14 season to be recorded as a unique cinematic experience. From the two-time Academy Award-winning Producer of MAN ON WIRE and SEARCHING FOR SUGARMAN, BOLSHOI BABYLON will give a voice to artistes and company members who are not usually in the limelight in irreverent and candid terms. Combining epic themes with intimate portraits, historical dramas will be counterpointed with the untold personal stories of agony and ecstasy that lie behind every acclaimed performance. With unparalleled behind the scenes access, the film will pay tribute to the dancers' extraordinary artistic and athletic talents, their abiding fear of injury and the ruthless ambition needed to survive in the world's most famous ballet company.

Genre: Martial arts

Director: James Nunn

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Danny Harvey (Scott Adkins), has spent all of his life fighting - in the playground, on the football pitch and then for the Green Street Elite. Danny turned his back on football violence and moved away from London. When Joey (Danny's younger brother) is killed in an organised fight, Danny is forced to return for Joey's funeral. Here, Danny meets up with his childhood best mate, Victor Davis, who's the detective assigned to investigate Joey's murder. Victor knows the only way of finding out who killed Joey is to send someone in undercover and he knows Danny is the only man for the job. Danny has to return to his old manor and get back into the firm... One thing guaranteed: Violence with a capital 'V.' Hooliganism has moved on. The fighting is much more organised and sophisticated. His MMA skills are going to come in more handy than ever thought possible. This operation is 100% deniable - if Danny gets caught they are both royally screwed. Danny is back and won't rest until he gets revenge and finally faces up to the demons that have haunted him for the last fourteen years.

Genre: Science-fiction

Director: Daniel Simpson

Status: Completed

Synopsis: From the producers of Creep, Severance and Triangle, HANGAR 10 is a found-footage alien encounter movie set near Rendlesham air base, the site of one of the most infamous incidents of extra-terrestrial contact involving US military personnel in the 1980s. Keen treasure hunters Gus and Sally invite their friend Jake to film them illegally 'nighthawking' on private land, in search of a hoard of Saxon gold. When their search inadvertently leads them onto land owned by the Ministry of Defence, the group encounters what they can only explain as intense extra-terrestrial activity; blinding flashes of light, alien craft moving in formation, objects flying at phenomenal speed. Frightened and lost, the group stumbles upon Hangar 10, an abandoned secret military facility. Here they uncover the truth behind the events of 30 years ago as they become accidental participants in a terrifying new alien incursion.

Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: Ronnie Thompson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: I AM SOLDIER is an action thriller which follows MICKEY TOMLINSON as he undertakes the toughest and most dangerous military training course known to man: SAS selection. The Special Air Service (SAS) is the United Kingdom's most renowned special forces Regiment. They're tasked with covert and overt missions in some of the most dangerous places on the planet. Mickey joined the army as a teenager with the one sole objective: joining the SAS. However, a parachuting accident not only took Mickey down a different military career path to what he intended, it also left him with an inner conflict which has haunted him ever since. The only way he can deal with this is if he faces his fear by fulfilling his lifelong ambition by attempting SAS selection: 'It is better to have tried and failed than to have failed to try.' We are with Mickey as he goes through every grueling stage of this selection which not only smashes him physically, but also takes him beyond breaking point, both mentally and emotionally. From torturous tabs over the steepest mountains, to running for his life on Escape & Evasion, Mickey still has to endure the most horrific interrogation imaginable. And if this isn't enough, the test parachute jump has to be passed without question. So Mickey will need to survive all of this and eclipse his crisis of confidence. Less than 10 percent of soldiers pass and it doesn't end there. There is only one way you can prove yourself and that is in combat. When the Counter Terrorism Squadron in the SAS are given authority to take charge of a deadly situation, we will see Mickey advance into conflict and see if he really does have what it takes to be a special forces operative. Many try to get into the SAS. Only the elite make it...

Genre: Documentary
Director: Beeban Kidron
Status: Completed

Synopsis: InRealLife asks what exactly is the internet and what is it doing to our children? Taking us on a journey from the bedrooms of British teenagers to the world of Silicon Valley, filmmaker Beeban Kidron suggests that rather than the promise of free and open connectivity, young people are increasingly ensnared in a commercial world. Beguiling and glittering on the outside, it can be alienating and addictive. Quietly building its case, InRealLife asks if we can afford to stand by while our children, trapped in their 24/7 connectivity, are being outsourced to the net?

Genre: Documentary
Director: Alastair Siddons
Status: Completed

Synopsis: This fascinating documentary tracks the evolution of the biggest participatory art project in the world, the wildly popular 'INSIDE OUT'. Travel the globe with French artist JR as he motivates entire communities to define their most important causes with incredibly passionate displays of giant black and white portraits pasted in the street. We witness young and old taking ownership of walls that were previously restricted and in doing so testing the limits of what they thought was possible. In capturing the process, Alastair Siddons creates a glowing testament to the power of image and the role that art can play in transforming communities.

The Invisible Woman

Cast: Ralph Fiennes, Kristin Scott Thomas, Felicity Jones, Tom Hollander
Genre: Drama
Director: Ralph Fiennes
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A woman's past is held inside her, locked away - a painful secret. A past life, a past love is kept hidden. This is the dilemma of Nelly Ternan, the heroine of THE INVISIBLE WOMAN. Nelly, a happily married mother and school teacher, is haunted by her past. Her memories, provoked by remorse and guilt, take us back in time to follow the story of her relationship with Charles Dickens, with whom she discovered an exciting but fragile complicity. Dickens - famous, controlling and emotionally isolated within his success - falls for Nelly, one of three sisters - all actresses. The theatre is a vital arena for Dickens - a brilliant amateur actor - a man more emotionally coherent in his work, or on stage, than in life. The nature of performance and the life of the theatre are an important part of this film, particularly in regards to the perception of women in theatre and the ambivalence of their position. Nelly, in some ways a muse for Dickens, becomes the focus of his passion. For both of them, secrecy is the price, and for Nelly a life of "invisibility".

Ironclad: Battle For Blood

Cast: Tom Austen, Michelle Fairley, Prerag Bjelac, Roxanne McKee, Andy Beckwith,
Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: Jonathan English
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Brace yourselves for another brutal battle, as one of the few survivors of the Great Siege of Rochester Castle fights to protect his family's estate from fierce Celtic raiders. With a new battleground and a new enemy, IRONCLAD: BATTLE FOR BLOOD promises to deliver the same ferocious, adrenaline-filled action and gory kills that defined IRONCLAD. It's 1216, just one year after the battle at Rochester Castle, and a new enemy threatens English life that's far more terrifying than King John - bands of Celtic raiders, stealing livestock and killing anyone who gets in their way. After the death of his father at the hands of these raiders, Hubert is determined to defeat them, once and for all. He seeks out his cousin Guy, one of the heroes of Rochester castle, for help. Guy is no longer the naïve idealist he once was, but a hardened sword-for-hire... Hubert finds him in a whorehouse, drunk and disillusioned, and only willing to raise his sword for money. They return to the castle, but before Hubert, Guy, and the rest of their band finish building up the castle defenses, the raiders strike. Bloody battles and violent deaths follow, including that of the enemy leader's son. Arriving to find his eldest son dead, the Celtic chieftain vows he will not return home until every living thing within the castle walls is slaughtered - and that's just the cue for more Ironclad gut-splitting action. The chieftain's resolve only intensifies the fight, because now the Celts aren't just fighting for livestock, they're fighting for revenge. IRONCLAD: BATTLE FOR BLOOD will take you on a hellacious ride featuring crashing swords, gruesome hand to hand combat, and plenty more of the ultra-violent medieval action that has distinguished this epic series.

Every year, Michael and his business partner, Andy French, and their families go away together on holiday: lazy Summer days spent relaxing on a shared boat out on the beautiful Lochs of Scotland. But this year, the happy facade will crumble. His once successful business is on the brink of collapse and unbeknownst to Michael, his wife is having an affair with Andy. Bonding and friendship is replaced by angst and friction as rising tensions begin to surface. Events on the boat eventually come to a head and Michael, rocked by this bombshell, finally cracks: the cheating, the lies, his failing business and money problems all become too much. But the arguments are interrupted by something rising from the depths: something relentless, intent on stalking and terrorising everyone on board. As their lives are ripped apart by dark forces beyond their control, a bloody struggle for survival ensues and Michael must fight to save his family from what lies beneath.

Synopsis: High octane from start to finish, PLASTIC is based on the incredible true story of a heist of one of Beverly Hills' top jewelry merchants. Brilliant college student Sam has the perfect credit card scam...until his crew robs the wrong man. Now they have two weeks to repay ruthless gangster Marcel US$2 million or they will be dead. Sam and his team devise a scheme to clear their debt by heading to Miami to poach enough cash and merchandise. But they come up short. So Sam and his gang set their sights on a daring jewelry heist that could make them hugely wealthy for life. Their plan turns sour, however, when the team members start turning on each other. Now it's up to Sam to finish the brazen heist and turn the tables on Marcel before they all go down.

Synopsis: Pudsey is a city dog and nobody's pet - and he couldn't be happier. London provides all the excitement, intrigue and sausages that any dog could ever dream of. Then one day, he happens upon Molly, Tommy, and George; siblings who are always the subject of ridicule by the bullies at their school. When George is on the receiving end of the wedgie of the century, Pudsey goes against his instincts and rushes over, knocking the bully down and saving the day. The kids instantly adore him, so Pudsey follows them home to score some sausages. But he gets more than he bargained for when he inadvertently hitches a ride with the family to their new home in the countryside! Now miles away from home and with no way back to the city, Pudsey starts to learn about the joys of country life, and how to be part of a loving family. He gets off to a rough start when the new landlord Mr. Thorne (who owns every property in the village and hates all dogs), refuses to let Pudsey in the house. But Pudsey's not fussed - he's perfectly happy to sleep in the barn with some rather eccentric animals, including Edward, a remarkably wise old horse, and Ken aka 'The Full English Breakfast', a pig who thinks he's a chicken! All seems to be going very well indeed until Pudsey discovers that the dastardly Thorne has a covert plan to demolish the farm their cottage is on and build a giant shopping mall! When Pudsey learns of this fiendish plot, he flips out and chases Thorne's cat, Faustus, through Thorne's house, completely destroying everything in his path. In all the commotion, Thorne captures Pudsey and banishes him to the dog pound. Now, Pudsey, the former lone wolf, has to team up with all the dogs in the pound so he can escape, warn his family of the danger, and save the village from certain destruction. And how will Pudsey distract the guard? Through dancing, of course! Set for a UK wide theatrical release through Vertigo Films, PUDSEY: THE MOVIE is 'Babe' meets 'Marley and Me' - a cheeky and downright hilarious animal adventure for the whole family! Oh and by the way... there are songs too!

Synopsis: PULP find fame on the world stage in the 1990's with anthems including 'Common People' and 'Disco 2000'. 25 years (and 10 million album sales) later, they return to Sheffield for their last UK concert. Giving a career best performance exclusive to the film, the band share their thoughts on fame, love, mortality - & car maintenance. Director Florian Habicht (Love Story) weaves together the band's personal offerings with dream-like specially-staged tableaux featuring ordinary people recruited on the streets of Sheffield. PULP is a music-film like no other - by turns funny, moving, life-affirming & (occasionally) bewildering.

Synopsis: Lock Stock And Two Smoking Barrels' meets 'The Hangover' in the outrageous action comedy REDIRECTED, starring Hollywood hard man Vinnie Jones. Four friends turned first-time robbers thought they'd planned the perfect crime: steal £1 million from an illegal casino, catch a plane to Malaysia, and get lost in emerald jungles, golden beaches, and cheap alcohol. And it worked. Almost. They left the casino with the cash and boarded that plane, but before they got to Malaysia, a volcanic eruption in Iceland redirected their flight to a Post-Soviet Eastern European country they'd never head of, with a name they couldn't pronounce. Now, if they're ever going to find paradise, they're going to have to fight their way out, past the never ending stream of gangsters, dodgy locals and dirty cops - as well as the London mobsters they ripped off in the first place, who are now hot on their heels and in no mood for negotiation! With twists at every turn, and plenty of violence throughout, REDIRECTED is a hilarious, cross-cultural action comedy that will have you howling with laughter from the opening frame. Synopsis: On a wild and remote Scottish island, the respected local minister, Balor, fights to keep his disappearing community together. His beautiful, enigmatic wife Aislin is more in tune with nature than she is with her husband or the villagers. It's clear she doesn't belong here and is treated as a total outsider. A storm is raging inside their marriage. They inhabit a strange, troubled relationship, which is reaching breaking point. A violent fight erupts between them. Suddenly amidst the chaos and confusion there is a knock at the door: a rugged 17-year-old delinquent has been sent to live with them - his last chance at rehabilitation. Aislin is drawn to this kindred spirit, another outcast. Together they drink in all the sensual beauty the island has to offer and their relationship delicately blossoms. His youthful nature ignites a passion within her, which offers her a way out of a life bound by convention and into the world beyond.

Synopsis: When charismatic terrorist Adam Qasim escapes from MI5 custody during a routine handover, the legendary Harry Pearce, Head of Counter-terrorism, is blamed. Disgraced and forced to resign, no one's surprised when Harry disappears one night off a bridge into the Thames... Will Crombie could have been a great spy, but Harry abruptly ended his young promising career three years ago for reasons that remain unclear. Now without purpose, Will's life is spiralling out of control, so why did Harry try to contact him minutes before his suicide? With MI5 on its knees in the wake of the Qasim debacle and facing controversial reform, Will is brought back to uncover the truth they feared - Harry's still alive. He's gone rogue, and needs Will's help. He believes Qasim's escape was an inside job, an attempt to destroy the service from within, ordered by someone at the very top - a web of deceit that reaches from the rooftops of Vietnam to the shores of the Mediterranean. As Qasim prepares his devastating attack on the heart of MI5 in London, Will must decide whether to turn Harry in - or risk everything by trusting the damaged, dangerous master spy who has already betrayed him once before...

Synopsis: One fateful night, troubled teenager Kelly sneaks into her boyfriend Mark's house to deliver some sobering news: she's pregnant. With the skills she's learnt as a gymnast, Kelly deftly creeps across the garden and clambers up the drainpipes without waking his disapproving parents. But tonight, she's not the only unwelcome visitor: an armed gang breaks in. Mark's father Doug manages a bank and the gang plan on using Doug's help to carry out a daring heist using his captive family as leverage. Their plan quickly unravels when during the ensuing struggle, the gang's leader Shane gets injured and is left on Mark's bed fading in and out of consciousness. Unbeknownst to the intruders, a terrified and vulnerable Kelly is only inches away under the very same bed. From her cramped hiding position, Kelly overhears everything and now knows too much, putting her life in terrible danger if she's ever discovered. But she can't hide forever. As tensions escalate, Shane's psychopath of a brother Callum plans to burn down the house to destroy any DNA evidence. Now Kelly must draw on all her reserves of strength and her skills of dexterity to escape. As the situation spirals out of control, the suburban house becomes a terrifying arena for violence. Faced with no alternative she must turn and fight back.

Synopsis: The Aliens are coming, today, tomorrow, soon..... Aliens have inhabited a number of planets over the centuries and settled on Earth before Man arrived. They now dwell in our Oceans, out of sight but keeping an eye on Mankind. Abbi Hill claims that she has been abducted by aliens. She saw bright lights, a space ship and has memories of an operating table and seeing aliens. Everyone else believes Abbi is an attention seeker and highly strung. After accidentally causing the death of her best friend in a car accident, Abbi is released from prison on good behaviour. Re-united with her six year old daughter and ex boyfriend Scott, Abbi is abducted once again. What do the aliens want with Abbi? Does Abbi hold the key to the future of Mankind? Special Agent Shepherd certainly believes Abbi is "special" and holds super powers. She is captured (along with her family) and imprisoned in a new high tech facility. The Earth is on the brink of environmental catastrophe and the Government is also seeing increased UFO activity. Is the Planet about to destruct? Are the aliens getting ready to invade? An ARK has been constructed for the lucky few to escape to a new Planet. Can Abbi save the Earth from an alien invasion or is it too late? Synopsis: Doug and Abi are two normal parents with three charming but highly eccentric children. When the strain of parental life threatens their sanity and marriage, they decide to take their kids on a trip to Scotland for a big family gathering and to see Doug's incomparably kooky father Gordie. However what promised to be a holiday of reconciliation soon turns into an hilarious social minefield as feuds, misunderstandings and bruised egos become the order of the day. When the children cause a completely unexpected turn of events, the family are forced to put aside their differences and work together or else risk losing what they hold most dear.
